

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XXVIII.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, APRIL 20, 1900, 9 A. M.

NO. 14

MIDDLEBURG.

John Spears sold to J. C. Cloyd a span of wagon horses this week for $170.

Shaderick Wesley, whose illness was mentioned in our last letter, has died since. Logan Rector, of Dunnville, died on the 18th.

The Queen & Crescent lost 85 miles of track between Hattiesburg and Meridian, Miss. by the wash out. The embankments are nearly all gone.

The citizens of this school district met in this place Tuesday evening for the purpose of ascertaining the wishes of the people in regard to the school property site here, but we have not learned the result.

Mrs. William Miller, while going downstairs at her home last Sunday, slipped and falling, received several painful bruises, from which she has been unable to attend her household duties since, but is improving. Mrs. Annie Bryant is confined to her bed with pneumonia. Mrs. Hemmie Fogle and her son, Jesse, and daughter, Willie, have been on the sick list for some days past, but they are all improving at this writing. William Wright, of Danville, was here this week on business. There have been several parties here during the past week, looking after the school property, but no definite sale has been made yet.

Henry Tombs and sister, Miss Stella, were visiting relatives here Sunday. Simon Wesley and Mrs. Dr. Dye, of Liberty, were visiting the families of D. G. Elliott and Wilfred Dye. Quite a number from Liberty attended the Easter service at the M. E. church here Sunday. Mc. Wheat has, through a representative, bought an interest in a very prosperous business in a thriving town in Texas and will return to that place in the next few days, where he will make his future home, which means to Casey county the loss of one of her staunchest democrats. Dr. J. T. Wesley made a professional call to Dunnville Sunday. Mrs. Lum Allen, of Somerset, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Coulter, of this place, this week. Mrs. John Paul has been quite ill for several days past, but is improving. Miss Willie Fogle is also improving very rapidly from an attack of grip. The writer being an up-to-date kind of a fellow has also been enjoying a severe cold.

NEWS OF THE VICINAGE.

Centre College and State College will cross bats at Danville next Saturday. Admission 35c.

During a row at a dance in Bell county Tom Claborn shot and perhaps fatally wounded Henry Winston.

Charles L. Wade, an L. & N. brakeman, was crushed to death at South Louisville by falling between cars.

A new company of State Guards was mustered in at Nicholasville, with County Attorney J. W. Mitchell as captain.

Mrs. Sallio S. Cress has been appointed postmaster at Disputanta, Rockcastle county, vice Mrs. Sarah Dooley, resigned.

At Lebanon, in a fit of jealousy, Bernard Hickett threw carbolic acid in Jessie Wilder's eyes putting them out. Both are Negroes.

A. D. Walton, a wealthy citizen of Hazeman, Mont., who was on a visit to relatives near Pando, Madison county, died of grip after only a few days' illness.

"Spring is here. The rays of the morning sun kiss the dew from the lips of the budding rose. The little violet a sense of love dith bring, as we gaze on its tender leaves, the sweetest gift of spring. From the valleys and hills to the very heavens above the air is filled with the sweetest notes of love."

On the hills bedecked with flowers fair and grasses green, we behold the grandest picture our eyes have ever seen. The woodcock hammers on the bark of the maple log, while into the lazy streamlet leaps the frog. The rabbit plays in the sand beside the lonely mill, while the watchdog is heard across the distant hill. The bluebird, the gentlest and fairest bird of spring, is wearied by the stroke of the martin's cruel wing."

Temperance orators in New York City, have found a man who, during his life, stretching over a period of 71 years, has consumed 100 hogheads of whiskey. In gallons he got away with 6,300 gallons, say in 50 years. This would give him 120 gallons a year, or in round numbers 24 gallons every week of his long life, or about three full pints every day, including Sunday.

BISMARCK'S IRON NERVE

Was the result of his splendid health. Indomitable will and tremendous energy are not found where stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills. They develop every power of brain and body. Only 25c at Penny Drugstore.

The C. & O. will run a cheap excursion to Old Point Comfort on the occasion of the presentation of the silver service to the Kentucky battleship about the last of May.

MT. VERNON.

A bay window at depot is one of the late improvements.

A fair crowd was out to see Sparks' show.

There is a roof here with water oak shingles that were nailed on in 1899 and it yet turns the rain.

The lime industry promises to be a big thing in Rockcastle. Five more large kilns will be built this season at different points along the railroad.

Mrs. D. Clauzitz is very low with consumption. J. W. Plig has returned from Louisville, where he finished a course of shorthand and typewriting. U. S. Marshal W. T. Short has five moonshiners for Covington.

Jim Daugherty, Crit and Bob Rose, of Jackson county, were arrested Tuesday by U. S. Marshal W. T. Short and on their examining trial before Commissioner White were held over on the charge of moonshining. The marshal fired upon Daugherty three times before he would surrender.

A bank for Mt. Vernon is an assured fact. W. L. Richards, Cashier Glencoe and O. B. Green, of Covington, were here and secured sufficient stock subscriptions to finish up the required amount of $25,000. A bank building will be erected to adjoin Houk & Son's store now in course of construction.

D. R. TOTTEN IS HEREAFTER A DEMOCRAT.

To my many friends both democratic and republican:

I wish to say after careful consideration, although heretofore a republican, I am proud to know that my garments are not stained with the blood of one of the best men in the State, who on Jan. 30th was shot down in cold blood; murdered for the sake of office, the balance of power and for the benefit of trusts, corporations and various other other causes detrimental to the common people.

William Goebel had proved he was the friend of the common people and a hater of oppression by trusts, corporations and all things that make the burden of the poor heavy. I am proud that I cast my vote for a man who was willing to die for his people and for a cause he thought was just and right. Fellow republicans, just look how many innocent men are in trouble over the death of Kentucky's truest friend.

Today they would give the whole world if they could only recall their actions. By whom were they led to do this dastardly crime? The high officials, trusts and corporations in order to put dollars in their own pocket.

This crime is recorded against the republican party. It is on the books of the State and many honest men, who are republicans, must share the actions of the leaders who have brought shame upon us all.

Glad, yes, I am glad the stain is not on me, and after such a damnable deed I am proud to say hereafter I shall support a party that favors the laws of the land taking the proper course in all cases. And he, who refuses to do this, the proper place for him is in the pen or a rope around his neck.

D. R. TOTTEN.

In writing of Madison county's memorable part in the stirring campaign, C. E. Woods has this for which we bow our sincere acknowledgments: This county and this district cast the die that nominated Wm. Goebel for governor and in this county and district are today some of the most valiant supporters and defenders of the party's nominees. No individual in the district has been more serviceable to the party in its leaderless but lawful fight than has our distinguished fellow-townsmen, Hon. James B. McCreary. No newspaper in or out of the district has equalled in all respects the services rendered the party by the Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL, which unfurled the black flag of "No Quarter" to assassins and their sympathizers and drove home some of the most destructive darts ever hurled at a political foe.

"I saw a funny sight the other day," said a friend from the country. "Coming in from Clintonville, I saw at a house near the railroad crossing the weekly wash hanging on the line to dry. Prominent among the articles displayed was a piece of feminine underwear made from flour sacks. On the rear elevation of this garment in big blue letters, were the words 'Pride of Paris.' Queer place for a milling firm's advertisement, wasn't it?"—Paris Democrat.

"There is one thing certain, if Dewey is elected president, Hanna won't be at the head of affairs," said one politician to another. "No. That's not his wife's name, I think," was the reply of the other.

VOLCANIC ERUPTIONS

Are grand, but skin eruptions are life of joy. Bucklen's Arches Salve cures them; also Old, Itching and Fever Sores Ulcers, Bolls, Fomons, Corns, Warts, Cuts, Bruises, Itches, Scalds, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Bed Pile cure on earth. Drove out Pains and Aches. Only 25 cents a box. Cures guaranteed. Sold by Penny Drugstore.

Monticello, Wayne County.

Miss Belle Osgood, who had charge of the telephone here, has returned to Cincinnati. Mrs. W. W. Kindrick, who has been very low for some weeks, is some better. Charles and Shelby Oatts are on the sick list. Miss Emma Ramsey spent several days with Amelia Oatts at Maplewood. Dr. Hiram Phillips, of Lexington, is at the bedside of his mother, who continues very ill. Charles Coffey left yesterday for Chattanooga, where he has accepted a position with the Southern Express Co.

Mrs. J. A. Phillips is suffering with grip. J. Berry is in Louisville buying goods. Miss Francis Herry accompanied him and will remain several weeks. Dr. Gilliland has arrived and taken charge of Dr. Gambill's drug store. He will move his family to the house now occupied by P. Maurice on South Main.

Mrs. Hattie Tuggle has returned from a visit to her parents at Mill Springs. John Oatts is mingling with old friends after an absence of several months in the South. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clark are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kearns this week. Little Hugh Phillips is visiting his sister Nellie, at W. A. Phillips'. Clint Kennedy has sold his interest in the Hufferaker & Kennedy firm to his brother John. Misses Amy Ramsey and Geneva Cook are at home again after a visit to relatives at Rowena. Mrs. R. L. Johnson, of Henderson, is expected here this week to attend the sick beds of her mother and grand-mother, Mrs. J. A. Phillips and Mrs. Eliza Phillips, who are no better.

MCCORMACK'S CHURCH.

Eld May failed to fill his regular appointment here Sunday on account of having to preach the funeral of one of the members of his congregation at Parksville.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Thurmond, of Lytle, visited at C. H. Carter's. Miss Lav. of Junction City, is visiting Miss Magglo Holly. Wm. Lunsford and family, who have been keeping house for Gus McCormack for a year or more, have moved to Highland and Wash Vanhook and family, of Moreland, have moved to Mr. McCormack's. Why don't some girl take pity on Gus and save him the trouble of hunting for a housekeeper so often? Mrs. Dottie Daymon, of Chattanooga, has arrived to visit her father, David Eubanks. She is in very bad health and has been for quite a while. Miss Mary Smith and Lillian Terhune, Messrs. Dewitt Brewer, Perry and Hugh Vancardale and wife, of Mercer, have been visiting at Mr. Vancardale's.

CHURCHES AND PREACHERS.

Eld Wm. Azbill, of the Christian church, died at Winchester.

The Walnut Flat Sunday school will be reorganized Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. E. H. Pearce has resigned as president of the Kentucky Wesleyan College at Winchester.

Out of $55,000,000 given to American colleges last year, only $430,000 went to colleges in the South.

All those interested in a Sunday school at Old Hills Gap church are requested to meet there at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon to organize.

Rev. W. M. Hitt will preach at McKendree church, Hubble, at 2 o'clock instead of 11 Sunday. He will fill his regular appointment here Sunday morning.

The Owensboro Cumberland Presbyterian is liable to expulsion for permitting Mrs. L. M. Wooley to preach after the General Assembly ordered it to erase her name from the roll.

The women of a Presbyterian church at Cleveland, O., decided to forego Easter hats and dresses and give the money thus saved to wipe out the church debt, and $1,000 was raised Sunday.

Another Presbyterian preacher, Rev. H. Watson Smith, pastor of a church at Little Rock, Ark., announces his withdrawal from the Presbyterian ministry as a protest against the Westminster confession of faith.

Bro. J. W. Hultzelaw writes from Preachersville: "We have just passed through a glorious meeting with our church at Drake's Creek. The pastor, Bro. J. C. Carmical, was assisted by our beloved brother, W. M. Kuykendall, of Mt. Washington, the meeting resulting in 30 additions to the church, 25 by experience and baptism, four by letter and one by relation. Church is much revived, and a bright future for the Baptists at this place. Bro. Kuykendall is a most excellent man and loved by many here. He preached at Preachersville in his boyhood days in the ministry.—Western Recorder."

A Pennsylvania supervisor has appointed a woman as a census enumerator, and thereby has not only got into trouble himself, but has brought trouble on other supervisors.

Flying Fox, the English thoroughbred, has been insured for $152,230.

LANCASTER.

Miss Eliza Lusk makes a faithful school superintendent and she can hold the office as long as she wants it.

Mrs. O. Bradley and Mrs. Juliet Rogers are in Cincinnati. R. G. Ward is preparing to build on Richmond avenue.

I have bet Hunt McMurtry a trip to the fair at Paris, France, that the supreme court will decide that it has no jurisdiction in the Kentucky contest case.

The parties selected to raise funds for the purchase of the right of way for the Southern extension, are progressing nicely and will be able to deliver the goods at the proper time.

Mr. Asa Tompkins, uncle of G. S. Greenleaf and brother-in-law of A. B. Brown, Sr., of this county, died in Paris, Texas April 11th, aged 72 years. He left this county before the war and was a worthy citizen.

Mrs. F. J. White has gone to Dallas, Texas to visit relatives. Messrs. H. C. Jennings and J. H. Symphon are laid up with the grip. Uncle Clabe Lear is confined to his bed. He is in his 94th year. Messrs. T. B. and J. E. Robinson went to Frankfort Wednesday and Hon. R. H. Tomlinson went to Kansas City.

Col. John T. Hays returned from Louisville some time ago, but I seldom see him in the city. I learn that he is recovering health. Miss Margaret Murphy was called to New York on account of the illness of sister, James Hatcher has fever. Mrs. Banks Hudson and Miss Jene Flesinger spent Easter in Lexington.

The committee to arrange for the G. A. R., met Tuesday night and reported progress in every department. The finance committee has raised about $300 and the local veterans will furnish about $200. The town will be decorated, music, badges and everything needed will be furnished and ample arrangements are being made to entertain a large crowd.

The laughing success, "Two Married Men," will be given at the opera house Tuesday night April 24, by a troupe which has met with public approval wherever it has been. It is full of fun throughout, is one of the most popular comedies on the stage, a cure for the blues, makes us forget our troubles and it is in fact a tonic, improving our health. Admission 25, 35 and 50 cents. Reserve a seat at Stormes' drug store as the house will likely be crowded.

I am sorry indeed for the man who is so blinded by political prejudice as to say that trusts should be permitted when they have advanced the price of nearly everything that he buys, and so raised the price of metal and other building material as to prevent the success of many enterprises. The democrats must get in power or the people will become slaves of the fostered corporations and pets of the republican party.

Mr. James A. Beazley informs me that at a meeting of the officers of the Christian church a request was extended to all the members to be present next Sunday at 11 o'clock, as matters of importance are to be considered, especially the matter of employing a pastor. The following committee of ladies was appointed to raise a fund to do some repairing on the church: Messdames S. F. Embury, R. L. Elkin, W. G. Anderson, R. A. Stone, L. F. Hubble and J. H. West. An inclination is manifested to get to work and have a genuine season of revival.

Although the death of Mrs. Pauline Smith was reported in the papers several days ago, she did not die until Wednesday about noon. She was about 60 years of age, and had suffered from cancer for several years. She was a member of the Baptist church and resided at Irvanville, where everybody admired her for her excellent traits of character. The funeral will be preached at the Fork church today, Thursday, where the burial will take place. She left no children and her husband died about 15 years ago. She was a daughter of Mr. Thompson M. Arnold and was connected with some of the most influential families in the county.

Dogs killed a number of J. C. Siler & Co's sheep Monday night. This reminds me of the work of the bounds in Lincoln county and Uncle Pate Embury's statement that you can judge of a man by his dogs, saying that the man who has a bull-dog has plenty, but he does not want any visitors, and while the man with the hound is not worth a cent, he will be glad to see you at his home. Do the facts verify the assertion?

(In some instances, no. In others, yes. Col. Hill, the chief of the fox hunters, told us no longer than the other day that he had more money than he knew what to do with and that he will cheerfully give to Mr. J. B. Foster $200 as his part of the damages to his sheep. "I am an advocate," said he, "of the dancers paying the fiddler. I love to fox hunt and am willing to pay for my fun.")

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., APRIL 20, 1900

W. P. WALTON.

SIX PAGES.

THE grand jury at Frankfort on Tuesday returned 10 indictments for the murder of Gov. Goebel as follows: For murder, H. E. Youtsey, James and Berry Howard, Harlan Whitaker and Tallow Dick Combe. As accessories, Charles Finley, Caleb and John L. Powers, W. H. Culton and Wharton Golden. The indictments say that it is not known to the jury if the men named actually fired the shot. The indictments against the accessories charge that each conspired with the others, W. S. Taylor and other persons unknown, unlawfully, willfully, feloniously and of their malice aforethought to kill and murder Wm. Goebel. No indictment was returned against Taylor, but if the others are charged with conspiring together and with him, it must necessarily be returned and the grand jury intimates that it will not spare the chief of the dastardly assassins. Of the accused, six are in custody, the Howards are at large and John Powers and Charles Finley fugitives from justice.

Owing to the fact that Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin is compelled to devote his entire time to the prosecution of Col. Colson, the assassination cases will lie over till he can assist the grand jury in the interrogation of witnesses, so it may be a week before Taylor and the other conspirators are indicted. The assassination papers are already turning their squint guns loaded with filth at the jury for doing its duty, but their efforts have no other effect than to further prove their sympathy with the cowardly murderers of the best man that Kentucky has produced for half a century. The Louisville Commercial says the connecting of Taylor's name with the conspiracy is a piece of dastardly politics and that Taylor will come out of the persecution unscathed. It is hard to see how even the blindest partisan can make such a claim in face of all the facts, which stamp the guilt of the most contemptible of all the assassins.

BEFORE he had been told by the tobacco and sugar trusts what to do, McKinley said in his message to Congress Dec. 4, 1899: "The markets of the United States should be opened up to her products. Our plain duty is to abolish all customs tariffs between the United States and Porto Rico and give her products access to our markets." Being a part of the United States this was the proper thing to do, but the two trusts named immediately sought to overcome the president's views in the matter and by threatening to withdraw their support and contributions in the coming campaign, made the spineless creature tumble to their demands. The result was that he made a special appeal to Congress to pass the Porto Rican Tariff bill prepared at his suggestion. He may keep in with the trusts and combines in this way, but the masses do not propose that the country shall be turned over to such cormorants, and will say so in no uncertain sounds in November. The chances for the election of William Jennings Bryan grow rozier as the days go by.

SAFE as he thinks. In the arms of that old protector of criminals, Gov. Mount, Charles Finley says: "I fully intend returning to Kentucky and face against the indictment against me. However, I will probably not go until the trial on the indictment for I am not willing to go back and be thrown into jail." If there is any law in this country, he should be brought to the scene of his alleged crime and not be allowed to await his pleasure. If Mount will not recognize a requisition he should be taken by force and made to show that he is wrongfully accused, if he can, or have his neck go with the rest into the halter.

AS an evidence of how the money goes and for poor purpose, the statement sent to the Senate by the president, of the expense of the Philippine commission is given. It is the enormous sum of $117,185. The commissioners each are awarded $35,285, and the president recommends that an equal amount be given Admiral Dewey and Maj. Gen. Otis, who also served on the commission. A free ride around the world and $35,285 for a few months' time, is greasing a fat sow pretty lively. Let it be remembered that Dewey and Otis are already getting about $15,000 a year besides numerous perquisites and other emoluments.

THE pictures printed of the conspirators and assassins would indicate that they are handsome men with open countenances. If it is not a trick of the camera it is another proof that man may smile and smile and be a villain all the same.

YOUTSEY said he knew enough to hang Taylor and the republican party and the grand jury at Frankfort seems to have caught on to the knowledge too.

At the request of 34 State Legislatures the Lower House of Congress has by a practically unanimous vote passed a resolution to submit a constitutional amendment making U. S. Senators elective by the people. There is little likelihood, however, of it passing the Senate. Most of the members of that body buy their seats, as Clark, of Montana, did, though they are not found out, as a general thing, and they will oppose any measure, which will make the cost of a seat greater than it is. In other words they think it easier and cheaper to buy a Legislature than it is to buy a popular election, and will hold on to a good thing rather than fly to what they know not of.

JUDGE CANTRILL overruled the amended answer of the republican holders of the minor State offices and entered judgment for the democrats. They will now have to vacate within 10 days or execute supersedeas bonds to carry the cases to the court of appeals, the sheriff being ordered to eject them if the bonds are not filed. They ought to be ejected forthwith.

THE Cincinnati Commercial Tribune asks "was the dragging of Taylor's name into the indictments, simply the perpetration of a petty political spite?" Nay, nay Pauline, it is simply the preliminary step of a prosecution that promises to prove that he was the principal in the plot and that he planned the whole performance.

IN writing of the indictments returned against the conspirators, Billy Breckinridge says in his Lexington Herald "An indictment in law does not even raise a presumption of guilt." Certainly not. Indictments never do. They are only intended by officious grand juries to annoy and embarrass innocent people.

MR. WATTERSON says he has never killed but one man that he knows of. As he is as mild a mannered man as ever cut a throat or scuttled a ship, we will have to be confronted with stronger evidence than Mr. Watterson's statement that he even ever killed a man in his mind.

EDITING newspapers as Jesus would has not become as much of a fad as the so called women editions. Both proved failures. Only those who are trained in the business can make a paper worth reading.

ADMIRAL DEWEY says he can't come to Louisville after all. Perhaps it is because Editor Watterson has withdrawn his support from him for the presidential nomination.

THE LATEST.

LOUISVILLE, April 20, 8:30 A. M.—It is persistently reported at Frankfort that W. S. Taylor has been indicted as accessory, before the fact, to Gov. Goebel's murder. It is said that the indictment is held up until he returns from Washington.

The Cuban census complete shows a population of 1,572,790; Negroes 32 per cent. The white voters are in big majority for the election June 16. C. D.

FRANKFORT, April 20.—The grand jury has returned indictments against John W. Davis and Green Golden, charging them with being accessories to the murder of William Goebel. The charge against W. L. Hazell is dismissed. There is no doubt now but that an indictment will be found against Taylor.

About Conspirators and Assassins.

John G. Carlisle refused overtures to take charge of Taylor's case before the supreme court.

If hell is as full of fiddlers as Kentucky is of hypocritical Taylorite preachers it would be a mighty fine place to go to hear some good music.—State Democrat.

Mr. Taylor, in a letter just published says his "face is fixed upon the star of truth." Our understanding is that his face is fixed upon the jaw-bone of an ass.—Frankfort Journal.

The reason why Taylor is after a "furren app'ntment" at this time is plain: he would feel safer beyond the jurisdiction of the Franklin circuit court.—Owensboro Messenger.

It is not only important to find the man who was behind the gun when Goebel was assassinated, but it is equally important to find the men who were behind the man who was behind the gun.—Georgetown Times.

Judge Cantrill disposed of the minor contest cases by deciding that the democrats are the legal State officials, and unless the republicans go through the useless formality of appeal this decision finally settles the case.

It is said that the indictment returned against Wharton Golden will be filed away, as he is the star witness for the Commonwealth, and will not be prosecuted. Culton is still at his home in Frankfort under guard, and may also be granted immunity for turning State's evidence.

Several farmers in the Otter Creek section of Madison county have had their plows, harrows and other farming implements broken up by scamps who didn't want them to put in crops.

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

The democrats carried Louisiana by a tremendous majority.

Lee Elmore has sold his interest in the Mayfield Mirror to L. A. Chandler. Democrats won in the New Haven, Conn. election by an increased majority.

Under the suffrage qualification law only 7,000 Negroes in Louisiana were allowed to vote.

Hoke Smith has sold his 33 shares of stock in the Atlanta Journal for $150,000 and will retire.

Judge Ira Julian will not be a candidate for the democratic congressional nomination of the 7th district.

T. J. Ballard is a Lawrenceburg candidate for delegate to the republican National convention from this district.

Babe Bally has horned old man Chilton off the track in Texas, leaving him a clear field for the U. S. Senatorship.

The republican Congressional convention at Wellington, O., after 1,352 ineffectual ballots, adjourned to meet at Norwalk, May 17.

A democratic candidate for Congress in the 1st district will be selected at a primary June 2, all voters who will support the ticket being eligible to participate.

The Brownlow people ruled the roost in the Tennessee republican convention yesterday. Commissioner of Pensions Evans being shown no consideration.

At a banquet given by the Brooklyn Democratic Club, the opposition to Bryan was outspoken. Willett, of Alabama, declaring that he must be shelved if the party would win in the next election.

Mayor Carter Harrison declines to become a candidate for governor of Illinois, because as he says: "I would meet with the council to select my successor, and I do not believe the people who elected me to the majority wish to leave the election of the next mayor to the present (republican) city council."

John G. Blair, who was the populist candidate for governor in 1899, has read Tom Pettit out of the party. He calls him a "political Judas" and sets forth that Pettit has not attended a populist convention since the one that nominated him for governor in 1899; that he was delegate to the convention which nominated Goebel and took the stump for him.

BRIEF NEWS NOTATION.

Alfred Folx, aged 46, of Calhoun, Ga., laughed himself to death over a joke.

The American Steel and Wire Company has closed down 12 of its mills in the West, owing, it is alleged, to overproduction.

Billy Griffiths, a 15-year-old boy killed his father at Cornettsville, with a rifle as he slept, because he had repudiated him.

The Dominion government has granted a contract for the establishment of a plant to furnish 300,000 horse power from Niagara Falls.

The L. & N., Illinois Central and L. H. & St. L. railroads were indicted at Owensboro for alleged violation of the separate coach law.

In attempting to arrest Ed Jeans, a drunken man, at Edmonton, the jailer was shot by him, whereupon he fired on Jeans, killing him.

American capitalists are after the contract to build a railroad from St. Petersburg to Odessa, which will cost not less than $40,000,000.

The Mississippi supreme court holds the law giving relatives of persons mobbed recourse against the county in which it occurred for damages.

The supreme court has decided that the shipper must pay for the stamp on the express receipt and the gouging concern will be that much better off.

A masher giving his name as M. Mundell, and claiming Chicago as his home, was fired out of Glasgow by some of the young men of the town for ogling the ladies.

A lot of drunken boys of Williams-town set fire to a lot of paper on which a drunken Negro named Rube Jones slept. He was fearfully burned and will lose his sight.

The Central City miners and operators have agreed on an advance of 13 1/2 per cent. on all day labor and 75 cents for a picked ton of coal. Both sides are well pleased with the settlement.

Col. James S. Pettit, of the 31st Infantry, has been court martialed. It is charged that he handed a prisoner of war over to the president of Zamboanga, who killed him without trial.

D. T. Baxter, a well known newspaper man of Lexington, committed suicide while temporarily insane by stabbing himself with a pair of scissors. Mr. Baxter dreamed before the assassination of Gov. Goebel that he would be killed and warned the governor of the danger he was in. The matter weighed on his mind, until it became diseased and he was constantly haunted with the fear that Goebel's friends would have been arrested for a guilty knowledge of his assassination. He was a partner in the news gathering enterprise with R. L. McClure, and furnished the Eastern and other dailies with the important happenings in Kentucky.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

Justice House, of Jeffersonville, married nine eloping couples in nine minutes Wednesday.

Henry Wilson, aged 70, and four times a widower, was married at Chicago to Miss Louise Napier, 23.

Joe Stringer, of Waverly, Tenn., choked his wife to death and then killed himself. They had quarreled.

Wm. Ernst, 26, obtained license to marry Miss Rosa Busse, the pretty 17-year-old daughter of George Busse, of Ottensheim, May 18th.

In the case of Col. D. C. Colson, for the murder of Ethelbert Scott and others at Frankfort, a jury was easily obtained and 58 witnesses recognized. The hearing of the testimony began Wednesday. Capt. Ben Golden, who was with Scott and who caught one of Colson's shots in his back, testified as did others, that Colson fired the first shot. Colson told a graphic story of the duel with Lieut. Ethelbert Scott. He claims both Golden and Scott attacked him and that Scott fired the first shot. The chances are that Colson will be acquitted.

Dee Baker, charged with complicity in the murder of Sheriff White, of Clay, is on trial at Barbourville for it. S. H. Dishman is prosecuting attorney by appointment. It is said that an effort will be made to prove that Tom Baker, who was assassinated while in charge of the militia at Manchester, did the killing.

The case of "Doc" Lowrey, charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. Heman M. J. J. was given to the jury at Henson Wednesday, but up to last accounts yesterday had not agreed and was doubtless discharged.

Henry Richardson, of Shelby City, was granted an increase of pension from $8 to $9 a month.

The Adair News is trying to break the people of Columbia of chewing wax in church.

Prof. Jordan says the prospect for the twentieth century farmer, from a material standpoint, is good. No lands are exhausted beyond redemption. Present knowledge will enable farmers to restore waste places and maintain or increase the present fertility of available lands. Prof. Crooks' prophecy of a permanent wheat deficit in 1942, because of a lack of nitrogen, is not seriously taken by many well-informed men. The proposition has not been proved. Science has brought a defense against exhausted fertility.

To correct exaggerated reports regarding the loss of life among American troops in the Philippines, the war department has published a summary, which shows that the mortality from all causes, from the beginning of the American occupation of the islands, June 1, 1898, to February 17, 1900, was 1,525. This is at the rate of 74 deaths a month for the entire period.

The citizens of Lagrange, Ind., have presented a remonstrance to the town board that is out of the ordinary. A skunk farm was started within the corporate limits of that city and the scent was more than the neighbors could stand. The remonstrance is drawn up in legal form and is signed by 29 residents.

Growing flowers for the Easter market is not a sure business, even with the best florists, says a city florist. A very small miscalculation will result either in forcing the flowers too soon or in delaying their blooming until the Easter demand is over. In either event the flowers are a heavy loss.

It is reported that Rev. J. S. Bitter, a Methodist clergyman, of Missouri, is organizing a company to develop gold mining claims at Cripple Creek, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to a fund for evangelistic work in large cities.

The genuine maple sugar makers are organizing exchanges for self-protection. To these they send their sirup and sugar, for grading, weighing and stamping, thus guaranteeing the genuineness of the product.

The Omaha man who spent 115 days in jail rather than tell a lie was doubtless trying to run his affairs as George Washington would. But at that rate he will have a hard time doing any business.

Fine legal points come up in Connecticut. It has just been held in that state that asking for a chew of tobacco is not begging under the law.

Typewriting experts instead of handwriting experts were introduced in a recent trial in New York.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

W. P. WALTON.

THE HUSTLE.—When the daily toll is over and the sun is going down, you are ready then to read the news that's going on in town. If you miss your favorite paper, here's a hint, 'twill make you smile; perhaps you'll find it on your daughter, for the bustle's back in the style. When you wash your face in soap suds and are looking for a towel, while the soap is getting in your eyes, you start to swear and howl; wipe your face upon your coat sleeve, and remember all the while, that the towel's hard to locate; since the bustle's back in style. Now, there's no use getting angry and it does no good to swear; if your Sunday shirt is missing and you're nothing clean to wear, try your hardest to look pleasant, do your best to wear a smile, and remember when you miss things that the bustle's back in style.

THE "CONFEDERATE VETERAN."—Low club rates given with the INTERIOR JOURNAL, 1 year each, for $1.60. The growth of the Confederate Veteran, published by S. A. Cunningham, at Nashville, Tenn., is remarkable. Its circulation of 84 issues, monthly, aggregated to January, 1900, 1,192,432 copies. Average for 1893, 7,693; 1894, 10,137; 1895, 12,918; 1896, 13,441; 1897, 16,175; 1898, 19,100; 1899, 20,166. Subscriptions for the Veteran will be received at this office. It and the INTERIOR JOURNAL will be sent for a year at the club rate of $1.60. By application to us copies of the Veteran will be sent to our veteran friends who are unable to subscribe. W. P. Walton.

HIS LIFE WAS SAVED.—Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Nashville, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says, "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption. When I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery, I bought a bottle and used it. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for Croup and Lung Trouble. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00 bottles free at Penny's drug store; every bottle guaranteed.

C. & O. SCENIC PLAYING CARDS.—We have just received a new lot of scenic playing cards. Each card has an exquisite engraving of a bit of scenery along the line and there are 53 different scenes. Similar cards can not be bought for less than $1 per pack. The denominations are shown in small letters and figures in the corners so that persons who do not play cards can arrange them in groups and frame them, making very pretty pictures. Send 30c in cash or stamps to cover cost and postage and a deck will be mailed to your address. George W. Barney, Div. Pass. Agent, Lexington, Ky.

LOW RATES TO THE NORTHWEST.—Tickets will be sold by the Monon route from Louisville to points in Arizona, British Columbia, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Manitoba, Michigan, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North and South Dakota, Utah, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming and return at one fare for the round trip plus $2 on Tuesday April 17th. Half rate for children between 5 and 12 inclusive. Tickets good for 21 days returning. Full particulars of your local ticket agent, or cheerfully furnished with maps and schedules by E. H. Bacon, D. P. A., Louisville, Ky.

REMARKABLE CURE OF RHEUMATISM.—KENNA, Jackson Co., W. Va. About three years ago my wife had an attack of rheumatism which confined her to her bed for over a month and rendered her unable to walk a step without assistance, her limbs being swollen to double their normal size. Mr. S. Meddick insisted on my using Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I purchased a fifty cent bottle and used it according to the directions and the next morning she walked to breakfast without assistance in any manner, and she has not had a similar attack since.—A. B. PARSONS For sale by Craig & Hocker.

SPECIAL RATES TO WASHINGTON.—D. C.—The Chesapeake & Ohio will sell round trip tickets to Washington, D. C., May 20 to 21, at one fare for the round trip, good returning until May 31st on account of the meeting of the Mystic Shriners. Keep these dates in your mind if you are going to make a trip East. George W. Barney, div. pass. agent, C. & O. Ry., Lexington, Ky.

A bill has passed both Houses of Congress to permit dependent mothers of soldiers or sailors of the Spanish war, even though they married ex-Confederate soldiers, to receive the benefit of the general pension law.

In almost every neighborhood there is some one whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, or who has been cured of chronic diarrhoea by the use of that medicine. Such persons make a point of telling of it whenever opportunity offers, hoping that it may be the means of saving other lives. For sale by Craig & Hocker.

President Kruger, of the Transvaal republic, has 31 grandsons, four sons and six sons-in-law in the field against the British in South Africa.

It has been proposed in New York to prohibit by law the publication of posthumous scandalous matter found on the persons or in the possession of suicides or of those who have attempted suicide. This, says Youth's Companion, would be a good thing to do. Persons who take their own lives are often insane. If not actually deranged, their minds are in a morbid condition as to unfit them for calm and accurate statement. It often happens that, with the intention of explaining their act, they leave a letter or scrap of paper which reflects cruelly upon the character of one or more living persons. The sensational newspapers print the letter under glaring headlines, and the injured person has no redress. A mere denial counts for little, and there is no defense against the calumnies of the dead. It would be well if newspapers would voluntarily go farther than the proposed law would compel them to do and would refuse to print the details of suicides. It does not concern the public to know precisely why or in what way some unhappy person has taken his own life. To have the horrors of such deaths enlarged upon and embellished, and perhaps illustrated with shocking pictures, is demoralizing to the public taste. It intensifies the sufferings of the family and friends, whose grief is already heavy; and it does no good to any human soul. Sometimes it unsettles weak minds with a craving for similar notoriety, and occasions new suicides. It may not always be possible to suppress reports of suicides altogether, but newspapers which have a proper regard for their influence in the community will minimize them as far as may be.

A full-sized grain of corn bearing on it a sprout half an inch long was a few days ago removed from the ear of 13-year-old Kenneth Stubbs, of Uhrichville, O., after having remained in the lad's ear seven years. On the day mentioned the boy was seized with a violent earache, and it became so painful that a physician was called. Upon examination, the doctor discovered some foreign substance in the ear, which when removed, proved to be a sprouting grain of corn. On Halloween seven years ago, when young Stubbs was a mere baby, it is said, he was standing in the door of his home, and some merry-makers, in passing, threw at him a handful of corn. One of the grains was thought to have gone into his ear at the time, but after an ineffectual effort to remove it, it was believed it had come out of its own accord.

The war department has lately published a list of the officers and men of the United States army who have received medals or been especially commended for gallantry during the last two and a half years. Two of the 50 officers whose names are mentioned, and 33 of the enlisted men, are colored. In view of the relatively small number of negro troops in the army, this is a record of which our dark-skinned brother may well be proud. Evidently this color-line is not drawn at the firing-line.

The famous Bonaparte trees on Washington Heights, New York, are dying. There are only about 30 remaining out of the original 400. The trees, which are known as African cypresses, supposed to be identical with the gopher trees of Scripture, were intended for the garden of the Tuilleries, but when Napoleon was sent to St. Helena the trees were brought to New York by Stephen Jumel, a merchant prince of that city.

A young woman lately had the color of the pupil of her eye restored by tattooing with India ink at the Miami (O.) medical college. Years ago an ulcer involving the cornea, and encroaching upon the pupil, left an unsightly white scar. The patient suffered a three days' ordeal during the process of tattooing.

A lady in Boston hired a public automobile to do some shopping, and after getting well under way was informed by the operator that he couldn't stop the machine, but it would be all right as long as he kept going. The power gave out after a spin of 13 miles, the lady returning home on an electric car.

The supervisors of Butte county, Cal., provide by statute that anyone riding a wheel on a sidewalk in any unincorporated town in Butte, or meeting a pedestrian must "dismount and remain at rest while such pedestrian passes." Bicyclists will be apt to steer clear of that vicinity.

There is no native of the state of Nebraska among its representatives in either branch of congress, notwithstanding the fact that Nebraska became a state 33 years ago and was the twenty-fourth admitted into the union.

During a recent cold spell a large icicle is reported to have fallen from the roof of a mill in Winoski, Vt., to a roof underneath and went through to the floor, smashing everything in its path.

A church society in Brooklyn discussed at a recent meeting the question: "Which is more demoralizing, fashion or tobacco?" The old contention between man and woman.

The South African war has again given the horse a dignified place among the world's things of value, but it is doubtful whether he is to be congratulated upon his rehabilitation. Though he is no longer a drug on the market, says the Chicago Tribune, he has no brighter future before him than at any other time since the trolley car and the automobile began to crowd him off the earth. For the crowding-off process continues at a rate that might well alarm the whole equine race. Competent authorities estimate that the Boer war is killing at least 5,000 horses per month, which will account for 35,000 or 40,000 animals since the beginning of the war, not counting those used for table purposes in Ladysmith, Kimberley and Mafeking. There is every probability that the wastage of horses will be still greater when the British penetrate farther into the Boer country. The Boers take special pains to kill the enemy's horses, because the death of a horse is almost as great a military loss as the death of a man. The climate also causes the wholesale sickness and death of the unacclimated animals. To supply this enormous wastage the British are scouring the horse markets of the world. The war office is said to have arranged to convey 30,000 horses in 23 vessels from New Orleans, Buenos Ayres and Australian ports, while at the same time a New York dispatch states that a contract has been nearly completed in that city for 30,000 more. If the war continues long enough at this rate the American horse breeders will be in clover.

Here is the latest story, according to the Kansas City Journal, on the man who is too stingy to take his home to follow. A man who was too economical to take this paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by his neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a four-dollar stand of bees, and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His cries reached his father, who ran to his assistance, and falling to notice a barbed-wire fence ran into that, breaking it down, cutting a handful of flesh from his anatomy and ruining a four-dollar pair of pants. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the cornfield, and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing the racket, the wife ran, upset a four-gallon churn full of rich cream into a basket of chickens, drowning the whole flock. In the hurry she dropped a seven-dollar set of false teeth. The baby, left alone, crawled through the spilled milk and into the parlor, running a brand new $20 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up 11 setting hens, and the calves got out and chewed the tails off four fine shirts.

An odd method of pulling a tooth was tried a few days ago by a Bloomville (N. Y.) young man who had been suffering with toothache. In vain he tried to extract the molar with a pliers and string. Then his anger rose, and when his wife taunted him with not having a particle of sand he resolved upon desperate measures. Procuring a yard of stove pipe wire, he fastened one end of it firmly around the deeply-rooted tooth in such a manner that it could not pull loose, and the other end he wound around a ramrod. Taking down his shotgun, he placed an extra charge of powder in the barrel, rammed the rod home, and, stepping to the door, he cocked the gun, opened his mouth and fired skyward. There was a loud explosion and tooth and ramrod sailed away skyward. He has not since been troubled with toothache.

The Paris police have issued a notice warning the public, and especially foreign visitors, that a great number of false 50-franc notes are circulating in Paris and the large French towns. They are getting ready over there to fleece foreigners and the chances for becoming separated from one's money during the big fair are becoming very numerous.

In a recent case of pneumonia 8,500 gallons of oxygen was used, the sick man was packed in ice, an alcohol bath was given every 25 minutes, and four quarts of milk with three quarts of whisky were administered daily. The Brooklyn paper that tells this story says the patient recovered.

Through the operation of Boston's Sunday cigar law, people who wanted to smoke there on a recent Sunday were compelled to buy a cheap box of matches at a large price, and receive the tobacco, cigar or cigarette as a present.

A shell-fish, known as the pianna, in the Mediterranean has the curious power of spinning a viscid silk, which is made in Italy into a regular fabric. There is a fish that ought to make music as well.

A Kansas paper mentions the death of G. Whiz. He was the gentleman whose name was so universally used by our Christian people as a substitute for the favorite swear words of the sinful class.

The American corn kitchen at Paris will be in charge of a colored woman trained as a cook in Maryland.

CONFEDERATE REUNION NOTES.

The annual decoration of the Confederate graves in the Louisville Cemetery will take place on June 3, the last day of the coming reunion. Several new head stones are being put up over some of the unmarked graves in Cave Hill.

June 2 will be the United Confederate Veteran Reunion day at Fountain Perry Park, Louisville. Among many attractions will be motor bicycle races, these have a speed of 37 miles an hour.

Of the five full generals of the Confederate army none survives. There were 21 lieutenant generals in the Confederate army from first to last, and of these all were from the United States army but four, namely, Richard Taylor, who was born in Louisville; N. H. Forrest, Wade Hampton and John B. Gordon. Of them the following are living: James Longstreet, Stephen Lee, Early, S. B. Buckner, Joseph Wheeler and A. P. Stewart. Besides two of those not from the old United States army mentioned above. All of these are expected at the Louisville Reunion May 30-June 3.

$100 REWARD.—The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer $100 for any case that it fails to cure, and for five testimonials.

A dispatch from London says that a fund is being raised in Laurel and Clay counties to be used in the defense of republicans accused of complicity in the Goebel assassination.

NO RIGHT TO UGLINESS.

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always be beautiful, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. Her complexion will be sallow, her hair, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate the stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will cure a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at Penny's Drug Store.

PRESTON, 922, VOL. 2.

Sold Bay with black points, 15½ hands high, foaled in 1891. Sired by Washington, 54. 1st dam Belle, by Rhoderick, 104. 2d dam by Denmark.

RHODERICK, 104.

Bay Stallion sired by Mambrino Legrand, 97, by Highland Chief. 1st dam by "Son" of Peter's Halcon. 2d dam by Downing's Bay Messenger. Belle, the dam of Preston, was a great show mare. Preston first attracted the attention of the public by winning the first premium at the Lexington Fair, and afterwards at Richmond, winning the rich purse of $1,000 for the best combined stallion in the State, and afterward at the great St. Louis Fair, where he won first prize over the best horses in the United States, also at Kansas City, where he again defeated the best horses, all sexes, in a Sweepstake Exhibition. The above is a great showing after winning all of the first prizes in Kentucky. Preston will make the season at $15 to Insure. Lien retained on all colts until season is paid. Call on or address O. The Coming of Baby brings joy or pain. It's for the mother to decide. With good health and a strong womanly organism, motherhood adds to a woman's attractiveness.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardul

takes away all terrors by strengthening the vital organs. It fits a mother for baby's coming. By revitalizing the nerve centers it has brought chubby, crowing youngsters to thousands of weak women who feared they were barren. It purifies, heals, regulates and strengthens, and is good for all women at all times. No drugstore would be without it, $4.00. For advice in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

MRS. LOUISA HALE, of Jefferson, Ga., says: "When I first took Wine of Cardul we had been married three years, but could not have any children. Nine months later I had a fine girl baby."

OUR GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

Have you watched its marvelous growth? If not, The Weekly Enquirer wants to study the strides it has made. The first census of the United States was taken in 1790. Since then every succeeding ten years. The result has been as follows:

Year.	Population.	Year.	Population.
1810.....	7,239,881	1860.....	31,443,321
1820.....	9,633,822	1870.....	38,558,371
1830.....	12,866,020	1880.....	50,155,783
1840.....	17,069,453	1890.....	62,822,250
1850.....	23,191,876

Here you have the figures of a basis of calculation. The problem now is: What will be the population of the United States, excluding recent acquisitions. The result is usually announced in July of the census year.

THE WEEKLY ENQUIRER is anxious to engage all in a study of their country. To this end it will distribute cash amounting to $25,000, for solutions received of the population of the United States Census, as follows:

To the first nearest correct guess received.	$25,000.00
To the second.....	1,500.00
To the third.....	750.00
To the fourth.....	500.00
To the fifth.....	250.00
To the sixth.....	200.00
To the seventh.....	150.00
To the next 10, each $100, amounting to.	1,000.00
To the next 50, each $50, amounting to.	2,500.00
To the next 100, each $25, amounting to.	2,500.00
To the next 500, each $10, amounting to.	5,000.00
To the next 1,500, each $5, amounting to.	7,500.00

2197 cash presents amounting to $25,000.00

In case of a tie, money equally divided.

Every guess on the above proposition must be accompanied by a year's subscription to the WEEKLY ENQUIRER. You can guess as often as you care to inclose subscription price to the WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

This contest will close a month before the result of the census will be known and officially certified by the Director of the United States Census at Washington, D. C.

Subscription price for the WEEKLY ENQUIRER (including guess) is only $1.00 a year. Eleven copies and eleven guesses for $10.00. For full particulars see WEEKLY ENQUIRER. Send all orders to ENQUIRER CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.

WILLIE'S LESSON OF LOVE.

Last summer Tommy Jones and me were climbin' all around, And found a bird's nest in a tree Away above the ground. We took the little thing away With all the eggs inside, And oh the words ma had to say—I just sat down and cried.

"You wicked, naughty boy," she said, "To pain the birdie so! Oh He that watches overhead Will punish you, I know! It was a sin to take the nest And rob the bird of joy! Now promise God you'll do your best To be a better boy!"

So when I said my prayers that night I promised God I'd do The best I could to make it right, As ma had told me to: I carried crumbs out every day And left them at the tree, And tried to get the bird to stay And make it up with me.

She flew away last fall and that Was all I seen or heard About her till they brought ma's hat Home yesterday! That bird Was there as fine as life, stuck through With wires you couldn't see To make her look as though she'd flew Down from the nearest tree!

If God hates Tommy Jones and me, As ma let on that day, I'm kind of like to know what He Above us has to say About the one that went and shot The little bird like that, And also of the one that's got It fastened on her hat.

Efforts at Friendship

By Kenneth F. Harris.

FATE seems occasionally to descend from her magnificent conduct of the affairs of men to what appears to be a miserably trivial spite, an incident of which is shown by the interrupted friendship of a prominent real estate man and a prominent lawyer, both of whom have offices within a few blocks of each other on LaSalle street.

It is a circumstance perhaps worthy of passing remark that most real estate men of whom stories have been told have been prominent, either at the time of the incident related or at some later period. It is the same way with lawyers. Various theories have been advanced in explanation of this from time to time, but it is probable that the real reason has never been discovered. However that may be, the real estate man and the lawyer met for the first time at a public banquet early last fall, and instantly made the discovery that they were kindred spirits.

They happened to sit close to one of the doors, and after the second speaker had resumed his seat amid wild applause and the enthusiastic waving of napkins the lawyer said: "Let's cut this and duck," and the real estate man answered: "I'll go you," and they both faded away and materialized three minutes later in the smoking room below.

Then followed a sweet communion that lasted until long after the banqueters had dispersed and until the weary waiters rawned cavernously behind their napkins. They found that they had much about the same views on imperialism and single-tube tires, that their estimates of their mental caliber of the chairman of the banquet were identical, that they had both smoked a certain high-priced and praised and widely advertised tobacco and had no use for it in the world, that they had encountered the same difficulties in golf and that both had a warm admiration for Fra Albertus and Kipling.

When the lawyer began a quotation from a wind-torn weed tangle of "The Seven Seas" the real estate man finished it with just the right inflections to denote his sympathetic appreciation.

Then they fell to talking of the sad and solemn things of life—of the deep mysteries of Nature and lying with side lights of personal experience, and they told the waiter to bring some more of that, and discoursed of hygienic fishing and hunting trips and of fishing and hunting trips which they hoped to make together in the rosiest future. They looked fondly across the table at one another with the kindly glow of perfect understanding in their eyes, and brushed impatiently aside the fragrant smoke wreaths as they drifted between them, as though they had been palpable barriers to the mutual flow of soul.

It was a beautiful thing. When they reluctantly decided that they would have to part they exchanged cards, and each glancing down at the one he had received said: "Why, we're near neighbors."

Then the real estate man said: "What's the matter with taking lunch together?" and the lawyer said: "There ain't anything the matter—yes, there is, though; my wife's going to do some shopping to-morrow, and I promised to take lunch with her. I can't go back on that this time. But then there isn't anything to prevent me calling you up by phone any time—or I could drop in on you or you could call for me. I'll tell you what: I'll telephone you the day after to-morrow and we'll go out together."

As the lawyer said, there was nothing to prevent them from telephoning. As a matter of fact, they have been doing nothing but telephoning ever since—except when they call upon one another—and call in vain.

The lawyer began it by telephoning according to promise. A silvery female voice answered him and said that the real-estate man had just gone out, but would most likely be back about two or three o'clock. The lawyer said that in that case he would probably call around at the office about two o'clock. He had just started out with this intention when his stenographer got a telephone call from the real-estate man, who announced that he had received a sudden summons out of town.

The next day the real estate man rang up the lawyer's office. It happened that the lawyer had gone over to the Criminal Court building. When he returned he called up the real estate man and found that the real estate man was at a board meeting. Four unavailing personal calls were exchanged in the course of the next two weeks. Then Fate relented or was huge attending to something else. At any rate, the stenographer with the silvery voice said that Mr. Campbell was in and would come to the phone, and the next moment Mr. Campbell said: "Hello, old man!"

"Hello!" said the lawyer. "Say, we seem to have been having some difficulty in getting together. Where are you going to eat lunch to-morrow?"

"Any old place. I'll eat lunch with you if you ask me. Do you think we could arrange a meeting?"

"I doubt it," said the lawyer. "I'll invite you, but I don't expect you to come. Say! I wish you would, though; I'd like mighty well to see you."

"I'll be with you this time, all right. I'll swear it, if necessary. At the same time I haven't any kind of an idea that I'll keep my word."

"All you have to do is to stay in the office and attend to your business. I'll attend to the rest. Will you do it?"

"I'll do it."

"All right. Good-by."

"Good-by."

The real estate man stayed in the office until he got a telegram from his friend, which read:

"Don't wait for me—will explain later."

Then he went over to the pie counter at the board of trade and consumed doughnuts and milk in high dudgeon.

The lawyer explained (by letter) that he had been called away to the bedside of an opulent uncle in Iowa who had just had his second stroke of paralysis. He made another effort at an appointment, but it was in a half-hearted, despairing way. His successive failures had unnerved him and left him more than doubtful of himself—foredoomed to disappointment. The real estate man felt about much the same way, and they both abandoned all attempt at communication for a month or two.

Then as the real estate man was passing the lawyer's office he thought he would just look in for the fun of it. He told himself that he did not expect to see the lawyer, and that this being the case there was more than a reason.

"WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH TAKING LUNCH TOGETHER?"

able probability that he would be in. He was not in, however, and the real estate man went out bitterly disappointed.

He left a note asking the lawyer to call him up, and the lawyer called him up and learned that he had "just this minute gone out." Then the whole thing was gone over with again.

As the matter now stands the two men are quite intimately acquainted with each other's stenographer.

"Oh, it's you!" says the young woman who attends to the real estate man's correspondence. "Of course I know your voice. . . . No, he isn't in, but I'll tell him to call you up when he comes in. . . . I know it won't be any good, but we might as well observe the usual routine. . . . Perhaps you'd like to call. . . . Well, I really couldn't say—not with any degree of certainty, but I'd be very glad to see you. . . . No, I don't think you change much as the years go by, but, then, seeing you so often, I might not notice it. Yes, I'll tell Mr. Campbell; he'll be glad to hear from you, I know. . . . I'd give a great deal if he could. He says he'll raise my salary when he does."

Mr. Campbell holds similar dialogues with the lawyer's stenographer. Sometimes he comes in and finds a pencilled note lying on his desk. It is a lunch invitation. He picks it up and glances at the familiar handwriting, and then sighs heavily. Seating himself in his swivel chair, he places his heels carefully on his blotting pad and allows himself to sink into a mournful reverie that brings back to him the once familiar face of his friend of a night. The lineaments of that face are growing hazy and indistinct now. The real estate man is beginning now to be afraid that he would not know them if he saw them on the street.

And the lawyer is haunted by a similar fear.—Chicago Daily Record.

Blond Wigs of Romans.
Teutonic peasants were the providers of blond hair for rich Roman princesses, who loved the contrast of its flaxen hue with their black eyes. They even had morning wigs, small and tightly curled, of any color, and kept the beautiful fair ones to wear when receiving their admirers in the evening.

BUD HIATT claims to have found a wild dog with pups in a hole on J. H. McAllister's farm. He managed to catch one of the pups which is as wild as a deer and which it seems impossible to tame.

NEW TEETH.—Aunt Frances Mit- chell, aged 60, and colored, is cutting her third set of teeth and she is scared about it. New teeth are pushing old ones out and she is suffering no little inconvenience by the peculiar freak nature has taken.

THE Fishing Club is getting some fine fish from the reservoir and they are working it for all it is worth. Robert E. Lee Sims caught a four pound bass Wednesday and J. P. Jones caught a dozen of 1 to 1 1/2 pounds. The club has received two pretty skills and are making many improvements.

REDUCED FIVE.—Messrs. B. B. King, T. J. Foster and G. H. Cooper went to Frankfort Wednesday, and after argu- ing with the State board of equaliza- tion, succeeded in getting it to re- duce the rate on lands and personal property, other than money and bonds, from 10 to 14 cents on the $100.

THE CROPS.—Mr. John Bright says that wheat prospects have materially retrograded in the last few weeks. The fields are very spotted, he thinks be- cause there is such a heavy stand of timothy. The long, cold, rainy spells have greatly delayed corn planting and that which is planted has been doing no good. But little oats have been sowed. Grass prospects are poor.

TENNIS CLUB.—About a dozen couples of the younger society "set" in town, have organized a tennis club and met last night at Miss Etta Belle Cloyd's and elected the following officers: Pres- ident, W. Harry Higgins; Vice Pres. Miss Virginia Pickett; Sec. and Treas. Shelton M. Sautley. They will have their court at Mr. Wm. Severance's, and besides tennis, will play a large part in Stanford's social functions dur- ing the summer.

MR. ALONZO K. CASTLE, who leased the Hustonville & Green River Valley Telephone lines for three years, tells us he is now going over the line and giving it a general overhauling. "Quick and efficient service" is what he prom- ises his patrons and he is sparing nei- ther energy nor money in making his word good and the line O. K. in every particular. His headquarters are at Hustonville, where he is ready to hear compliment or complaint.

CORBIN is putting the big pot into the little in preparation for the Odd Fellow celebration there April 26. The lodges of London, Williamsburg, North Jellico, Middleboro, Pineville, Crab Orchard, Stanford, Jellico, Tenn., Leb- anon and Lebanon Junction are ex- pected and hundreds of people from all over the State. Balloon ascensions, base ball and bicycle races, music, speaking, dinner and refreshments are some of the good things promised. The Stanford degree team will confer de- grees at night. The L. & N. will give a rate of one fare for the round trip.

CAME BACK.—Felix White started South the other day intending to lo- cate. He got as far as Nashville where he attended church at night. The choir sang that good old song with deepest emotion: "God be With us Till We Meet Again." The sad refrain car- ried him back to home and friends and fearing that something might happen to him and God forget to be with him, he left the church and striking for the depot got back to mummy and papa the next day. At least this is the tale that Will White tells. This is equal almost to the story that Editor Louis Landram told on two of the young men of his county. He said they started to join the army and go to the Philippines, but decided after reaching Stanford to go to Brodhead instead.

READ A. E. Gibbons' wall paper "ad" and call on him when you go to Danville.

IN two days this week, this office got out a nice little pamphlet of 30 pages for the Knights of Pythias and did lots of other job work.

THE Enterprise Roller Mills, Mar- schall Milling Co., proprietors, started up again Wednesday, after a rest of several months.

SEVERAL days of fine weather have caused many gardens to be planted and much farm work done. It is sprink- ling rain now with a prospect of a pour down.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Gertrude, lit- tle daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wilk- inson, fell yesterday and a needle she had sticking in her dress pierced her breast its full length. Dr. O'Bannon was called and gave the little sufferer chloroform before extracting it.

THE way the L. & N. gouges our citi- zens because it has no competition is a caution. Yesterday we received a shipment of type from Chicago, the freight on which was within a few cents of as much from Louisville here as from Chicago to the Falls City

THE suit for damages by W. Vernon Richardson against the Louisville Post will be tried at this term of the Boyle circuit court and much interest is man- ifested in it. Mr. Richardson's honesty as an election officer was violently as- sailed by a correspondent of that pa- per.

THE fund to pay the expenses of R. L. Hubble, J. M. Alverson and S. J. Embry, who were indicted in the U. S. court, grows distressingly slowly. The only money received for the past month is $1 from that sterling young democ- rat, W. T. Beck. By the way, those who subscribed will please forward the money.

WANTS FOX HOUNDS.—Mr. J. R. Hardin writes us from Farleton that he will give some of the fox hounds a good home if the fox hunters here wish to give them up or are determined to kill them. There are very few sheep in his section and foxes are plentiful. He also extends an invitation to lovers of the chase to come up there and hunt.

THE Central Kentucky Medical As- sociation met here yesterday in quar- terly session, with Drs. Elliott, of Bry- antsville, Herring, Kinnaird and Wes- ley, Lancaster, Drs. Bertie Carpenter, Brown, Alcorn and Barker, Huston- ville, Wesley and Haney, Middleburg, Moore and Lowder, of McKinney, John. S. Cooper, of Livingston, Thompson, Kingsville, Edmiston, Crab Orchard, and Cook, O'Bannon, Brown, Peyton, Hulley, Carpenter, Lewis, Stan- ford, present. Drs. Alcorn and Kin- naird were essayists on diphtheria and there was a general discussion of the subject by society. Dr. J. G. Carpenter read a paper on Surgical Elections in Obstetrical and Abdominal Surgery, which was also discussed. The next meeting will be at Lancaster and Dr. Elliott was appointed to prepare a pa- per on Gastro-enteritis.

U. D. OF C.—Mrs. J. W. Alcorn, president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, requests that the members and all interested, meet at her house next Tuesday afternoon for the transaction of important business. It is the intention of the society to give an entertainment of some kind shortly, to raise money to place a suitable ta- blet over the grave of Lt. Col. Whaley, the gallant Georgian, who was shot in the civil war, and died at the old War- ren hotel that stood on what is now a part of the court-house square. He is buried in Buffalo cemetery. Mrs. Alcorn says it is her intention and that of many of the society to attend the Confederate Veteran's reunion at Lou- isville and she hopes that all will go.

BLACK LEM.—Mr. W. P. Grimes, who lost 17 cattle with black leg last year and whose neighbors all suffered losses more or less from the same dis- ease, tells us that he has vaccinated his herd of 130 twice at a cost of $29.75. He purchased the virus of a Detroit, Mich., firm and found that with the cost of the syringe, etc., it costs about 20 cents to vaccinate a yearling and 10 cents a calf. The virus is applied with a needle shaped syringe, which holds enough for one animal, after a hole has been made in the tail with an awl. Two vaccinations are necessary in about two weeks of each other. Mr. J. T. Hingaman assisted Mr. Grimes and with four hands they vaccinated the 130 head in half a day. They also vac- cinated 35 for David Anderson and so far neither has lost an animal from the operation or from the disease. Mr. Grimes said as far as he could learn all the deaths from black leg had occurred in his section and east of here, none ap- pearing to the West.

The Louisville Derby will be run May 3 and the Latonia Derby May 28.

W. I. Dooley was appointed postmas- ter at Withers, Rockcastle county.

Miss Lizzie Sellers has been ap- pointed postmaster at Alton, Wayne county.

J. C. Jenkins, the well-known peach- grower, was in town Saturday and re- ports the prospect good for a fair crop of that luscious fruit.—Glasgow Times.
